

Modes of Instruction

New York Tech offers a variety of course modalities to meet the needs of students and the course requirements.

In-Person*

Your classes meet on campus at a specific time.

Hybrid Remote

Your classes take place mostly on Zoom at a specific time.

Online

You take classes online at a time you choose.

Blended

Your classes are a combination of online and either in-person or hybrid remote.

*In-person classes could shift to remote in response to external circumstances.

Student class schedules, including day, time or instruction mode, may occasionally change based upon department needs. Students are encouraged to periodically check their class schedules.
